PRACTICE AREAS

Commercial | Commercial Finance | Financial Services | Real Estate | General Counsel Services

Tom Hayslett maintains a commercial practice that covers real estate transactions, business-to-business commercial agreements, commercial finance transactions and general business counsel to closely owned enterprises. Tom's practice includes representing buyers, sellers, developers and owners of retail shopping centers, office buildings, hospitality properties, manufacturing and warehouse facilities, and residential developments; as well as representing manufacturers, processors, professional service providers and other businesses in negotiating transactions and reviewing agreements amongst business counterparties in connection with the purchase, sale and leasing of materials, finished goods and services.

Tom places very high value on professionalism in all situations, clarity in communications and forward-thinking decision making that evaluates alternative courses of action, costs and benefits, and a broad range of consequences. Tom works hard at distinguishing between which issues are important to each particular client and its business model and which issues are of less concern to that client. Tom's best client relationships exist where he gets to know his clients well—their values, business strategies and personalities—and is able to be a trusted advisor in a way that is tailored to those clients.

Tom is a member of Miller & Martin's Policy Committee and previously served as Chair of the firm's Commercial Practice.

EXPERIENCE

- Served as lead counsel representing the buyer in the acquisition of 20 acres and 17 properties for the redevelopment of an industrial site in Southeast Tennessee.
- Represented the seller of a national grocery anchored, health/wellness themed retail development consisting of over 90,000 square feet of retail space (plus developed outlots operating underground leases), more than 20 tenants.
- Represented the seller of a conventional enclosed mall property, anchored by national retail tenants, undergoing a substantial rehabilitation that included conventional financing for the acquisition and tax increment financing infrastructure improvements associated with the rehabilitation.
- Represents a developer of small to mid-scale solar power generation facilities in acquiring surplus industrial properties, converting portions of the properties into solar-pv units, selling the power generated into the public system, and developing, selling or leasing the remaining acreage for commercial/retail redevelopment.
- Works routinely with the in-house legal team of an international, large scale raw materials processor in negotiating and reviewing business-to-business contracts across a broad range of contexts, including sale or purchase of goods and services, sale and leasing of equipment, and shipment; and this includes regular collaboration with the client in managing best practices both for the process of contract legal review and for the maintenance of client preferred contractual terms and forms.
- Represents one of the area's largest homebuilders in connection with acquisition of raw land, acquisition of partially completed/distressed developments and connection with general business matters.
- Represents an industrial equipment manufacturer in all aspects of business operation and management, including negotiating terms of third-party investment, negotiating terms of joint-venture and vendor contracts, and overseeing facilities acquisition and leasing.
