Miller & Martin Attorneys Present at AGC of East TN 2025 Construction Leadership Summit

Posted in Event on January 31, 2025

Miller & Martin attorneys will present as part of the program for Associated General Contractors of East Tennessee's Construction Leadership Summit to be held at McLemore Resort on Lookout Mountain, GA March 28-29, 2025. Sponsored by Miller & Martin, Randy Wilson will present a breakout session titled "Construction Law for Subcontractors: Contracts, Lien Law, Retainage and Liquidated Damages" and Scott Simmons will co-present a breakout session titled "Navigating Substance Abuse in the Workplace."

The Construction Leadership Summit brings together construction leaders and executives from across the southeast to engage in meaningful discussions on industry challenges and opportunities. This summit provides a platform to share innovative ideas and solutions through networking, elevate companies and their teams through insightful dialogue, and strengthen our industry with collective expertise. Attendees will leave with actionable insights they can implement within their own companies to enhance efficiency, boost competitiveness, and support their teams' growth.

The program will include legislative reports; market trends affecting construction; mitigating risk, navigating substance abuse in the workplace; AI tools for construction; building high-performing teams; and legal considerations for subcontractors.

For more information or to register, visit the AGC of East Tennessee website.