Miller & Martin Attorney Laura Ketcham Contributes to the 2022 Edition of Strategic Alternatives For And Against Distressed Businesses

Posted in News on February 14, 2022

Miller & Martin attorney Laura Ketcham is a contributing author of the 2022 edition of Strategic Alternatives For And Against Distressed Businesses ("Strategic Alternatives").

It is the only resource that provides comprehensive state-by-state comparisons of assignments for the benefit of creditors and receiverships. This alone makes the book a must-have for every insolvency professional. Strategic Alternatives includes helpful chapters that address how companies become distressed, how to turn them around, real estate workouts, and tax issues generally in the context of reorganizations and liquidations. It also has special focus chapters written from the perspective of various constituencies, including the company's directors and officers, its secured creditors, and potential buyers.
