Miller & Martin is pleased to announce that Eileen Rumfelt, Member, has been appointed to the Board of Directors for Georgia Intellectual Property Alliance (GIPA). Ms. Rumfelt represents Women in Technology (WIT) where she also serves on the Board of Directors. She will join Stephen Kabakoff, Member and Chair of the Licensing Executives Society (LES) Chapter in Atlanta, who also represents LES on the GIPA Board.

Ms. Rumfelt concentrates her practice in the area of complex commercial litigation with a special focus on intellectual property litigation and white-collar crime and corporate investigations. She regularly advises her colleagues and clients on the management of eDiscovery issues in commercial litigation. Ms. Rumfelt represents both large and small national, regional and international companies in a variety of industries, including pharmaceutical, consumer products, banking and insurance. Her intellectual property practice spans a wide range of disputes, including trademark and trade dress infringement, trademark dilution, patent infringement, false advertising and unfair competition. Ms. Rumfelt has practiced in federal and state courts across the country, before the Federal Circuit, and in the International Trade Commission.

Founded in 2018, Georgia Intellectual Property Alliance (GIPA) is a network with resources, expertise, and connections to help make intellectual property easier for people to understand and ensure that every aspect of the IP ecosystem runs smoothly. GIPA brings together an exceptional group of people, resources and expertise to ensure IP prospers in Georgia.
