

Appellate Attorney Bob Parsley Quoted Regarding Tennessee Supreme Court Firefighter Benefits Case

Posted in News on January 9, 2025

As reported in a January 2025 Chattanooga Times Free Press article, the Tennessee Supreme Court is considering to what extent judges can review an agency's denial of disability benefits after a Chattanooga firefighter was refused coverage from a city fund over his post-traumatic stress disorder.

Miller & Martin appellate attorney Bob Parsley, who is representing the pension fund in the lawsuit, said the Tennessee Supreme Court's opinion in this case is going to affect the review of decisions made by city and county pension boards across the state.

Read the full article titled "Chattanooga Firefighter Case Heard by Tennessee Supreme Court" on timesfreepress.com.