Posted in News on July 22, 2025

Tom Harrold was recently interviewed on Atlanta's rise as a global business powerhouse for a new article by Global Atlanta. Harrold is noted as an "icon in Atlanta's international law and business communities" for introducing and fostering international relations by bringing international firms to Georgia.

Harrold reflects on how Atlanta's international reputation became what it is today through various factors such as the development of Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport. Harrold also looks forward to what will drive development in the future, including opportunities in the electrical vehicle space from investments by Hyundai and Kia in Georgia.

"We need our young people to look out and see there's a whole other world out there. They need to travel and go see these other countries, so they can have a real appreciation for an international career—and then come back to Georgia."
