

Bob Parsley Article on Civility in Appellate Practice Published by Tennessee Bar Association

Posted in Publication on June 2, 2021

Attorney Bob Parsley recently authored an article titled "Civility in Appellate Practice," which was published by the Tennessee Bar Association on June 2, 2021. The article covered recent appellate decisions that emphasis two important aspects of appellate practice: written rhetoric and civility. Read the full article at the TBA website.

Bob Parsley practices in the areas of commercial litigation and appellate practice in Miller & Martin's Chattanooga office. He is chair of Miller & Martin's Appellate Practice Group and a past chair of the Tennessee Bar Association Appellate Practice Section.