The Tennessee Bar Foundation Fellows represent the very best of the Tennessee legal community and the legal leaders who have helped shape – and continue to shape – the practice of law in our great state."

About The Tennessee Bar Foundation

The Tennessee Bar Foundation is a statewide, law-related, philanthropic organization with a mission to honor distinguished attorneys by electing them to membership as "Fellows," supporting vital law-related public interest projects, and administering Tennessee's IOLTA (Interest On Lawyers' Trust Accounts) program. Established by the Tennessee Supreme Court in 1984, the IOLTA program has since granted over $35 million through this critical grantmaking program. These vital funds support organizations that provide direct civil legal services to low-income and vulnerable Tennesseans, working to improve the administration of justice and ensure greater access to justice for all.
