Patrick is an attorney in Miller & Martin's corporate department. His practice is focused on mergers and acquisitions, securities, corporate finance and general business representation. Patrick advises clients with respect to mergers and acquisitions of lower middle-market companies on a nationwide basis. As the team leader on many transactions, he has advised clients on all aspects of purchase and sale transactions, including structure, financing, corporate governance and securities. Patrick also advises clients raising capital through private placements of securities and venture capital financings. In this role, he has assisted a number of private equity funds and investment partnerships with respect to their capital raising efforts. His practice also involves the representation of businesses with respect to general business and tax matters, including entity formation, debt and equity financings, contract drafting and negotiation and other general business matters.

Patrick was previously a member of the firm's Policy Committee, its managerial board, from 2013-2015.
